I'm a 21-year-old BSc Computer Science Level 300 student with a strong focus on Web Development and Ethical Hacking. Passionate about technology, innovation, and cybersecurity, I have hands-on experience building responsive web applications and analyzing system vulnerabilities. As the current Faculty President, I have developed excellent leadership, communication, and organizational skills. I am driven by a desire to grow, solve real-world problems, and contribute meaningfully to both technical and team-oriented environments.
